that the strike call applies to the passenger conductors, engineers and trainment and that they will heed the order just as promptly as the members in freight train service who would benefit by the granting of the demands now in controversy.

Clears Up Misunderstanding.

In reply to many inquiries that have been made regarding the scope of the No general agreement was reached on the question of embargoes. With vary-ing conditions each road was expected to act for itself. Railroad managers here said all lines Railroad managers here said all lines probably would take action similar to that ordered by the Santa Fe, to protect themselves in case of a strike, but that no concerted action had been agreed upon and each road would adopt its own precautions.

Strike Will Be Short, Claim.

The roads will fight a strike individ-"If the strike goes into effect it will" ually and not collectively. Many of length of it, however, will depend upon its acuteness. If the railroads muster enough men into their train service to prevent great suffering among the people, the strike may last a long time and become a contest of attrition between the railroads and the brotherhoods.

"If the suffering is acute, the strike will not last long, because the people, even those who might sympathize with the strikers, would not continue to be sympathetic toward them if their food were cut off. If the railroads fail to muster enough men to prevent great sufficiently and the New Haven system has given out the following statement is showing that all classes of train service would be involved:

"In his address to Congress Tuesday the President said: "The four hundred thousand men from whom the demands proceeded had voted to strike if their demands were refused; the strike was imminent; it has since been set for the 4th of September next. It affects the men who man the freight trains on practically every railway in the country. The freight service throughout the United States must stand still until their places are filled, if, indeed, it length of it, however, will depend upon run more than 50 per cent efficient, particularly on several western lines, the strikers, would not continue to be sympathetic toward them if their food were cut off. If the railroads fail to muster enough men to prevent great suf-fering among the people, the strike's own weight will overtop it. "Bluff" Good Dog, He Says. "I am sure, and I say this knowingly that the four brotherhood chiefs bluffed the administration and, fortunately for them, their bluff was not called. In their case bluff was a good dog. "The trouble is that there is an over-"The trouble is that there is an overproduction of railroads in some parts of the United States and an under production in other parts. Capitalists will not build new lines anywhere, because they do not like the attitude of some labor organizations. Private enterprise offers too many returns for them to risk their capital in building new railroad lines.

"They will wait until after an adjustment has been reached and then go on building again."
